JOUST!

THE YEAR IS 1474 AND THE WARS OF THE ROSES ARE OVER FOR THE TIME BEING. ONCE MORE THE KNIGHTS OF FRANCE HAVE CHALLENGED ENGLAND TO A JOUST IN THE HOPE OF WINNING BACK THE HONOUR LOST IN PREVIOUS YEARS.

Arundel Castle is playing host to the tournament, which will last for 6 days. Knights and their squires will compete in a variety of weapons and skills-at-arms contests culminating in combat on horseback.

The tournament followers will set up their encampment in the shadow of the Castle itself, providing the services needed by the knights in order to fight. See the armourer, ready to mend dented and battered armour; the fletcher making the arrows for the archers to display their skill; and the apothecary looking after the wounded and brewing her medicines. The storyteller will be there to entertain the children with stories of bravery and heroism and a hog roast to feed the hungry.
